

White-naped Mangabey

(Cercocebus lunulatus)

Status: Endangered

Threats: Loss of forests for palm oil and hunting

What country does it live in? Ghana and Cote d'Ivoire

Where does it live? Undamaged forest

How long do they live? Around 30 years

What do they eat? Fruits, seeds, flowers, animal prey

How big are they? The size of a large cat

How do they talk? They are heard far more than they are seen so they have lots of different calls. Like high-pitched squeaks, twitters, grunts and screams

Who do they live with? Many males and females together

How do they walk? On four feet

Where would you find it? In the day mostly on the ground

What do they look like?

They have very long tails, longer than their bodies!

MASC:

Monkeys Acting in Schools for Conservation

www.monkeysinschools.org