

Yellow Tailed Woolley Monkey

(Oreonax flavicauda)

Status: Critically Endangered

Threats: Loss of trees and hunting by humans

What country does it live in? In mountains of Peru, South America

Where does it live? Wet forest in the mountains

What do they eat? Fruit, leaves, animal prey, flowers, buds, roots

How big are they? The same weight as a collie

How do they talk? Bark, contact call and loud call

Who do they live with?

Many males and females

How do they walk? On four legs and dangling by their special tails. It has a fingerprint which is special and different for each monkey

What do they do? Largest male in group threatens humans by shaking and dropping branches, peeing and pooing.

Where would you find it? In the day time in trees

MASC:

Monkeys Acting in Schools for Conservation

www.monkeysinschools.org